Introductory Remarks

- In the initial three weeks following the introduction of the March 27th restrictions, traffic volumes were very consistent. Overall traffic volumes were typically down approximately 65-70% across the national road network.
- From Tuesday 21st April, an upward trend in car traffic volumes became apparent.
- In response, daily traffic figures are being provided in order to more closely monitor the trends. Traffic figures are measured from 7am to 10am so as to provide an early indicator each day.
- Weekly heavy goods vehicle traffic has remained largely stable and accordingly the daily figures provided are for cars only.
- The changes day-to-day are not cumulative – they compare only the current day's figures versus the same day in the previous week and the same day last year.

Daily Data for Tuesday 14th July

- Car traffic volume growth today as compared with Tuesday 7th is consistent with last week with generally low levels of growth across the sample counters.
- Overall, car traffic today is typically down by between 25% and 34% of the volumes of one year ago, across the sampled traffic counters.
- Car traffic just south of the Northern Ireland Border on the N1 at Jonesboro shows 0% growth today as compared with Tuesday 7th July. This may be a consequence of yesterday's Bank Holiday in Northern Ireland.
- Car traffic volumes on the radial routes into Dublin show an increase this morning as compared with Monday of last week of between 3% and 5%. Car traffic is up 5% on the M11 at Bray, 2% on the M4 at Celbridge-Maynooth, 1% on the M1 at Swords to Airport and 1% on the N7 at Citywest.
- The M50 (N3 Navan Road to N4 Galway Road) shows a 4% increase as compared with Tuesday 7th July. This is broadly consistent with the growth rates recorded today on the radial approach routes.
- In the case of the regional cities the increase in car traffic volumes this morning as compared with Tuesday 7th July is as follows: N6 Bóthar na dTreabh Galway 9%, M9 Waterford 1%, M7 Limerick 1% and N40 Cork 0%. With the exception of Galway the low growth levels this morning continue the trend of the past week.
